

3. Mr. Moreno’s fifth-grade class collected three sets of data:
- The heights of the students in Mr. Moreno’s fifth-grade class.
 - The heights of a class of kindergarten students.
 - The heights of 23 students in the school cafeteria at lunch time. (Students in kindergarten through fifth grade eat lunch together.)

They made a graph for each set of data but forgot to include titles. Use the descriptions of the data and the information on the graphs to write a title for each graph.
